

IS SUDDENLY CALLED BEYOND

Charles E. Cowing, Merchant,
Died at 11 a. m.
Today

Had Been in Failing Health for
Some Time—Brother of Mayor Cowing

Charles E. Cowing, a well-known merchant of this city, and a brother of Mayor Harvey Cowing, died rather suddenly at 11:10 this morning following an illness lasting for three or four years. He had been feeling very poorly for two or three days and spent much of the time in bed. However, few people knew that his condition was so serious and when his death occurred this morning the news came as a shock to all. Mr. Cowing was conscious until the hour of his death. The end came peacefully and the spirit passed into the realm of the great beyond. Mr. Cowing's death is thought to have been due to tuberculosis.

Mr. Cowing was widely known throughout the county. He was a son of Joseph L. Cowing, former trustee of Noble township, and a native of this county, and Minerva (Kreghler) Cowing, a native of Ohio, and was born and raised at New Salem. He was forty-nine years of age.

He served for some time as assessor of Noble township, and postmaster at New Salem. Nine years ago he went into business in this city, and at the time of his death he was the senior member of the firm of C. E. Cowing & Bro., implement and harness dealers. He was known as a good conscientious business man and a loyal citizen. He was a stalwart Republican, and was one of the most interested party workers before his illness. He was a member of Milroy Lodge, No. 204, Knights of Pythias, and Burr Oak Camp, Modern Woodmen, of this city. He possessed a host of friends who feel that in his death they have sustained a heavy personal loss.

Besides the brother, Mayor Harvey Cowing, he leaves a wife, two daughters, Misses Blanche and Myrtle, and one son, Frank.

The funeral will be held Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias and Modern Woodmen. Interment at East Hill.

CRAWLED HALF MILE THROUGH A DITCH

The Story of a Lost Hog on Douglas Morris' Farm

"From the farm of Judge Douglas Morris, of Rushville, comes a strange story of the fate that befell a hog a few weeks since," says the Knights-town Banner. "On the judge's farm, near Grant City, there is a twelve-inch tile ditch about half a mile long, used for the usual irrigation purpose. For two or three years past young shoats raised on the farm have been missing, and what became of them has been a mystery. About three weeks ago a sixty-pound shoat belonging to Ol Manlove was missed, and he supposed that it had been stolen or strayed away somewhere in the neighborhood. Last Friday there was occasion to open the ditch, at the point where the twelve-inch tile is connected with an eight-inch tile, and there, at the intersection, was the missing shoat, as dead as the proverbial door nail. It had probably walked into the exposed entrance to the twelve-inch tile, and, with hog-like curiosity, wandered on until it came to the intersection with the smaller tile. This it could not turn back, the poor shoat was left to its fate. This is probably the solution of the mystery of the missing shoats."

The township and county officers of the Rush County Sunday School Association met this afternoon at the office of the county superintendent to arrange a program for the annual tour of the county. Nearly all of the officers were present. President Hungerford of the association presided.

Nellie Newkirk was in Indianapolis today and will see "Ben Hur" at English's tonight.

D. O. Alter, of Orange township, was in the city today and gave this as a pleasant call.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR EAT PEAFOWL

Rushville Commandery Has Big

"Masonry," Sir Ben L. Smith.

"Response for Class," Comp. Hugh E. Maury.

PART OF IT IS COMPLETE

The Track Laying Begins at Big Williams
Creek

Friday's Connersville News says: "One final cut through the long, troublesome cut at Big Williams creek was completed last evening, and the steam shovel was backed up for a final cut on the other side."

"Men in charge of track laying were in the city this morning, making preparations to begin track-laying through that part that is completed today. This opens the way for construction cars to carry supplies from the west and from this time on there will be no waiting. Comparatively little remains to put the single track in running order between this city and Rushville."

"One of the officials in charge of the construction was asked when cars would be running and he answered without hesitation that they would be running before November 1st."

"Ties are being hauled and scattered along the line and that work is nearly done. Rails will be brought in from the west and with the company's own track and cars the work will be rushed."

"It has been suggested that Mayor Barrows and F. T. Roots begin practicing speeches before mirrors in the inner sanctum of their homes, that they may be ready to say things with neatness and dispatch to President Henry and staff when they roll in through the big cut, from the west with their trolley car. Oh, Liberty! Oh, Brookline! Don't you wish you were us?"

WORKING ON A BIG TELESCOPE

Former Rush County Man Writes Interesting Letter From California.

W. E. Clifton has received a letter from Homer Hittle, of Los Angeles, Cal., formerly of Gings. Mr. Hittle resigned his position as foreman of a machine shop in Los Angeles some time ago, and is now engaged in building a large telescope for the Smithsonian Institute's Solar Observatory at Mt. Wilson, Cal. He says that his firm has been working on the telescope for two years and that it will be another year before it is completed. It has a five foot reflector lens, that is eight inches thick. Workmen have been grinding on this lens for eighteen months and will hardly finish grinding it before six months more. Mr. Hittle is working on the clock work and mounts. He says that the telescope will weigh twenty-two tons when completed.

Ottis Cox, who is attending the Connersville high school, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, in this city.

THE FACTORY IS ASSURED

Citizens Must Rally However in Aid of Improvement Association

W. M. Pearce Goes to Cincinnati
to Accept Factory's Proposal

Notwithstanding that the Association needs more money with which to pay minor expenses incident to bringing C. E. Francis & Brothers here from Cincinnati, the location of the factory in Rushville was assured at the mass meeting of citizens last night in the sheriff's office at the court house.

Dr. Frank H. Green, president of the Improvement Association, presided at the meeting and some seventy citizens were in attendance. When the meeting was called to order the Association's soliciting committee announced that it lacked $300 of having enough to bring the factory here. A number of those present then signed the subscription list and before the meeting was over $185 had been added.

It was then announced that although some money was still needed, that by next Tuesday, at which time the Association is to let Francis Brothers know whether or not it will accept their proposition, the Association felt that it could have enough money subscribed to accept. Consequently it was decided to send Walter M. Pearce to Cincinnati today to confer with the firm and arrange some minor details toward bringing the factory here. Mr. Pearce left for Cincinnati at 9:03. It is thought that Francis Brothers will come to this city some time next week to close a contract and file a bond, binding them to locate in this city.

Mr. Pearce was in Indianapolis yesterday conferring with the Big Four people regarding a switch to the factory, and found that it will be necessary to make a fill at the factory site, south of Innis & Pearce's factory for the switch and factory. It is for this purpose that the committee must solicit more money.

The Improvement Association has an option on the Gates Sexton ground, where the old heading factory was formerly located and will purchase it as a site for the new factory.

It is the duty of every citizen of Rushville to help boost the city and give something to aid the Improvement Association in bringing this factory here, and not only this factory, but others if they can be secured. Have you done your part? Everyone should consider that there are others in Rushville besides his individual self and he should remember that to advance Rushville's interests and make the town what it ought to be, it is necessary for all to work together and that the work should not be left to a few. Let everyone help swell the fund for the improvement of Rushville. Do not wait for the committee to call on you, but go to it and put down your name for whatever you feel able to give. Let's get Rushville out of the rut in which she has been running along for these many years.

CLAIMED HIS STEP MOTHER WAS CRUEL

Johnny Pitcher Found Bleeding and Bruised by Marshal Price

About 8 o'clock this morning Marshal Price found John Pitcher, 15, residing on North Arthur street, near the C. & H. D. depot. The lad was bleeding about the head and declared that his step-mother, Mrs. Angeline Pitcher, had been beating him and treating him cruelly.

Thereupon the marshal took Mrs. Pitcher before Mayor Cowing who held a court of inquiry into her case. It is understood that the boy is incorrigible. The matter will be taken up later, Mayor Cowing being compelled to drop it for the present owing to the death of his brother, Charles E. Cowing. The Pitcher boy says that he has not been in school for three years and he will probably be sent away.

Uncle Sam Not Ready to Announce When He Will Get Out of Cuba

Taft's Valedictory Address Was Received With Satisfaction
by all Classes

Havana, Oct. 13.—The United States through its peace commissioners is not ready to announce when it will withdraw from the island of Cuba and surrender the reins of government to the Cubans, but this action cannot be taken until the time arrives when fair elections are assured. This statement was made by Governor Taft as a sort of valedictory address to the revolutionists' committee with which the American commissioners dealt in inducing the rebels to cease hostilities and negotiate peace. The committee had a conference lasting an hour with Governor Taft, Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, and Charles E. Magoon, who today succeeded Mr. Taft as provisional governor, and at its conclusion expressed satisfaction with the position taken by the provisional government. The departure of Mr. Taft and party today for the United States was the occasion of an enthusiastic demonstration of appreciation, participated in by all classes.

The Lights are Going Up.

Charles Broadhead and Posey Denning are putting up the transformers, poles and wires for the lights, and Jesse Levi is cutting the weeds and cleaning up the grounds. Charles Applegate is superintending the work. The carnival company, it is said, is at Ladoga this week and will arrive here Sunday or Monday. The weather is warming up and promises to be ideal carnival weather.

THE NEW PALESTINE INJURED IMPROVING

The parties injured in the New Palestine explosion recently are all doing well now. Will Hough, J. F. Reed and Elmer Binford, of Greenfield, John Hittle and Frank Haner, of New Palestine, are as good as new. W. H. H. Rock, of Greenfield, is able to get around on crutches. John L. McCune, of New Palestine, is also able to be out. John O. Branson, whose right arm was taken off and Perry Hobbs, whose legs were so badly burned, are both doing well. The escape of all these men was a miracle.

FRED A. CAPP WINS FIGHT

Re-elected Actuary of Farmers Insurance Company
by Close Vote

Stockholders' Annual Meeting—
The By Laws are Amended.

Three hundred and fifty-seven stockholders of the Rush County Farmers' Insurance Association met this afternoon in annual session in the court room on the third floor of the court house.

The meeting attracted more than the usual interest, because of the election of the actuary and the warm fight waged between Fred A. Capp and John C. Humes for the place. Both of these men waged hard campaigns and the result of the election shows how close was the race. Mr. Capp won by a margin of eleven votes.

A fight was waged upon Mr. Capp for the reason that he had been actuary of the company for twenty-one years, and it was thought that it was time to pass it around. Mr. Capp's record was an enviable one during his twenty-one years' service, and it was argued by his supporters that his long experience made him more valuable to the company than ever.

Three hundred and fifty-seven votes were cast in the election. Out of that number, Mr. Capp received 184 and Mr. Humes 173. The ballots were cast early in the meeting and the result announced at the close.

William Newkirk, president of the company, presided at the meeting. While the votes were being counted the meeting voted to amend the by-laws of the company and the amendments were passed separately amid heated discussions. One of the provisions passed provided that the actuary shall have an office and shall remain at that office on one certain day of each week to transact the business of the company. The actuary receives about $1000 per year salary.

When the result of the balloting was announced, John C. Humes, the defeated candidate, rushed up to Mr. Capp, seized him by the hand and good naturedly exclaimed, "I congratulate you, Mr. Capp. You have won the race. We have, given Mr. Capp a horse race and Mr. President, I move to make the election of Mr. Capp unanimous."

There were loud cries for Mr. Capp, and mounting the platform at the witness stand he said: "I want to thank the stockholders for re-electing me actuary of the company. I'm sure no other one thing in my life has given me more pleasure than this has. During the twenty-one years of my service as your actuary I have never spent a cent of your money and I have never wasted any of it. I have never favored a friend nor punished an enemy. That has been my course in the past and will be my course in the future." Applause.

The new by-laws passed will affect all policies already written as well as those written in the future.

He had written an acceptance to the Pittsburg Lodge and when he received the invitation from the local lodge he accepted it and declined the other.

BUSINESS BAD FOR SALOONS

Holding "The Lid" Down in Rushville is Hard on Them

"Business is on the Bum" They Say and it Keeps Them Hustling to Make Ends Meet

Since "the lid" was put on and tightened down in this city things have changed materially from what they were. The "tight" administration is a matter that is "cutting a good deal of ice," according to the views of some of the people affected in a business way.

Some saloon men, however, take different views of the situation. Of course, the majority of them would favor a more liberal arrangement, while a few say that the present arrangement of matters suits them, and has made no difference in their business.

Others take the view that there are too many saloons in the town to make the business exceptionally profitable under any circumstances, and one saloon man said today that he would welcome a State law which would fix all retail licenses at $1000, the same as the Ohio law. He took the position that such a regulation would put the liquor business in the hands of more reputable men and would raise the moral standard of saloon men.

But the local situation among saloon men at the present time is "putting the business on the bum," to use the language of some of them.

"We are all hard up," said a saloon man today, "and there is many a saloon keeper who is having to scratch to pay his bills. I know of three or four who are [trying to sell out, and I expect to hear of one place, at least, change hands within the next few days. There are a good many saloon men in Rushville and they spend a lot of money, as a class, among other business men, but they are spending less money now than they have for some time. They are cutting expenses every way they can. The cigar business is also injured to such an extent that I know some cigar makers who are working now on half time or nearly so."

This expression is about the same as is heard from the majority of saloon men. It is a situation they concede they will have to meet in some way, but, "just how" is the question some of them have not yet been able to solve.

Occasionally the threat is heard that the saloon men will insist that all business of every description shall be closed on Sunday, but this talk has never taken the form of steps to bring such an action about.

Mayor Cowing, Marshal Price and Policemen are still sitting on the lid and keeping both eyes open for violations of the liquor law.

Nearly all of the gamblers have left town and some of those that yet remain have gone to tending bar.

Rushville is a much cleaner and more orderly town now than for many years in its history. There are no Sunday violations and arrests are becoming fewer day by day.

RUSHVILLE, IND., OCT. 13, 1906.

Some of our Democratic exchanges are claiming that the present tax, when enacted was denounced by Republicans as "unequal and unjust." Undoubtedly it was as interpreted by Democratic State boards of tax commissioners, because since the present era of Republican control of the State tax board began in 1895 the valuation of corporate property within the purview of the board has been increased 40 per cent., while the valuation of farm lands and improvements has been increased on the Democratic figures only 15 per cent.

Mr. Bryan is too much opposed to the process of centralization in business to advertise any trust, he says, but he does not hesitate to sell space in The Commoner to the big mail order houses which are making millions out of their owners and destroying the business interests of smaller communities, without conferring any benefit upon the sight-seen buyer who puts his trust in a ten pound catalogue.

This week a bricklayer was arrested for drunkenness and had to be hauled to jail on a dray. When he was fined by Mayor Cowing, he was unable to pay, and as a result he is being kept in jail at an expense to the city or county as the case may be. This is a case of utter shiftlessness. Bricklayers are in demand and they earn from $5.00 to $7.00 a day. Unheard of high wages for mechanics, and yet this man did not have a cent wherewith to pay his fine. It would seem that a jail sentence does not fit the crime. Some more heroic punishment ought to be inflicted on such fellows.

It is a well-known fact that the American children are badly raised, and consequently very ill-behaved, as compared with children of other nations—even heathen nations, such as China and Japan. The boy in particular is almost unmanageable and has no respect for older people nor any regard for other people's property. He will do damage wantonly and with a little compunction as one has in killing a fly. Instances can be cited daily. Thursday afternoon a pair of mules were tied to a weight on Main street. Boys from school shoved the weight off the sidewalk; this scared the mules and caused a runaway, which injured the little mare of Weeks' butcher shop, causing pecuniary damage. Parents should lecture their boys not to do any damage to other people's property and to show respect to grown people. This should also be a daily lesson in school. Whenever an incident of this kind comes to the knowledge of the teacher, it should be promptly seized upon and an object lesson given.

LONG TOUR AHEAD

The Vice President Will Speak in a Dozen States.

Indianapolis, Ind., October 13.—Vice President Fairbanks left yesterday afternoon on the longest and most important political speech-making tour since his election two years ago. He will travel several thousand miles and talk to the voters of a dozen states before his return to Indianapolis, Oct. 30, to speak here that night and to start the next morning on a four days' tour of the state, closing the campaign for his party. Requests for speeches have come to him from nearly every state where a campaign is in progress. He has accepted as many invitations as possible and will make about forty speeches in his own state instead of three or four as originally intended. The vice president will spend two days in Indian Territory and Oklahoma at the very urgent request of the Republicans there, who want him to open their campaign. He will probably have a special train through Missouri and in Kansas on his return trip. The request for speeches in Indiana have become so general that Chairman Goodrich and Chairman Hayes of the speakers' bureau have decided to add a day to the trip so that over two-thirds of the counties will be reached. During his absence the vice president will make speeches in Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Indian Territory, Arkansas, Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia.

Governor Cummins and his "Iowa Idea" will play a role in the Republican campaign next week, as he has been assigned for a speech at Danville on the 16th and Goshen on the following day.

The much-mooted question of the right of saloon keepers to have "music boxes" in their saloons was decided by the appellate court in favor of the saloon keepers, but the latter were informed that the boxes must not be played. The Nicholson temperance law forbids saloon keepers to have music in their places of business. The saloon men have resorted to all sorts of devices to get around it. In the case in which the decision was rendered Edward Collins, an Elkhart saloon man, was convicted of keeping a music box in his place. As it was not shown that the music box was used, the higher court reversed the decision, but in doing so it held that music is forbidden in saloons by law. "The alluring of people into rooms where liquors are sold, by means of music or amusements," said Judge Myers, "was evidently intended to be stopped, thereby minimizing the evils of the liquor traffic by rendering uninviting the places where it is sold." The court held that to interpret the statute to mean that devices for making music should be excluded rather than music itself would throw open the doors and permit saloon keepers to have a chorus of singers to attract business for them.

more than that of the richest subject. The institution she owns is almost a department of the government, supplying as it does the artillery for the German army, all the armor and guns for the navy and some of the ships. The semi-political agents of the Krupps are persons of importance in Constantinople and in the Balkan capitals. The German diplomacy supports them. Intelligence of most departures in military and naval affairs in any part of the world reach the Krupp management and thence the general staffs of the army and navy. In time of war the government would probably take over the control of the works.

The government has kept a solicitous watch upon the Krupp enterprises, which include besides the steel and gun works at Essen, shipyards at Kiel, gun and armor works at Magdeburg and a number of coal and iron mines. The employees aggregate 63,000. The sole inheritor of these undertakings on the death of her father in 1902 was Bertha Krupp, who was twenty last March. Dr. Von Bohlen, as he is generally known, was first secretary of the legation which Prussia maintains at the vatican distinct from the German embassy at the quinal. He was born thirty-six years ago at The Hague.

CONSCIENCE HURT HIM

Minister of Gospel Surrenders to Navy Department.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Conscience-stricken, Rev. James R. Slayton, Jr., presented himself to the assistant secretary of the navy and asked to be arrested for deserting the navy five years ago. Slayton said that his conversion to religion and service as a minister of the gospel caused him to see the wrong he had done. He was accompanied by officers of the Salvation Army, with whom he has been associated in religious work. Mr. Newberry referred Slayton to Captain Wilson, who is in charge of enlisted men. After hearing Slayton's story the captain ordered him to report at the Washington navy yard and surrender himself to officers, who would put him in prison and hold him for court-martial.

"Aye, aye, sir. I will report there on my honor, sir," Slayton replied, as he saluted the officer and backed away from him. An hour later Slayton reported to the navy yard, where the commandant told Slayton he could not be held because of the statute of limitation. Slayton left the navy yard with Brigadier Little of the Salvation Army, and together they conducted a meeting of the crowd, when Slayton told the crowd of his misfortunes.

Slayton was arrested at Myersdale, Penn., by a detective, but escaped from the office and came to Washington to surrender himself. He explained to the officers at the navy department that he is a regularly ordained minister of the Evangelical association, and has a charge at Myersdale. It is charged by Slayton that a woman in Cleveland who is jealous of him and was angry because of his recent marriage to another woman, caused the detectives to pursue him.

AT A RECORD LEVEL

The Price Situation One of Great Strength, Says Bradstreet's.

New York, Oct. 13.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: Cold weather has greatly stimulated many lines of retail trade hitherto inclined to lag, notable in this respect being heavy-weight clothing, shoes and rubber footwear, and induced some reorder business with jobbers who are still busy on regular trade. The coal trade also shows improvement and some advance in prices, but car congestion, especially at the West, is a bar to fullest activity. That the early advent of snow and frost has done some damage is evident in reports of injury to fruit orchards, vines and tobacco plants at the West; and rumors of frost damage to cotton at the South.

The railways seem to keep finding increased difficulty in handling the traffic offering, and fears of future great congestion are expressed. The price situation as a whole is one of great strength, Oct. 1, prices being at a record level.

REAL HAVANA FOR FIVE CENTS.

Thos. W. Lytle at Last Finds a Nickel Cigar Worth Smoking.

When Thos. W. Lytle, who probably has the largest sale for high-grade cigars of any dealer in Rushville, heard that a long Havana filler cigar was being retailed for 5c., he was naturally incredulous. As he wanted to give his customers the best cigars for the least money he got a sample box of the Wadsworth Bros' Chicos.

The samples were "all right and he ordered a trial of 1,000 to see how they would please his trade. The result was wonderful, as men who had been buying 10 and 5 cent cigars said they preferred the Chicos. It is a good and satisfactory smoke with a clear Havana aroma.

Try a Chico to-day and you will enjoy it, if you like a good cigar.
